

BROADSTONE'S FIRST EVER COMMEMORATIVE POSTMARK

To mark the centenary of the death of Broadstone's most famous resident, Alfred Russel Wallace, who jointly proposed the theory of evolution by natural selection with Charles Darwin in 1858, the Broadstone Chamber of Trade is sponsoring a one day only cover and postmark for 7th November, 2013.

Broadstone
7th November 2013

So you do not miss out, order your cover now for only £5.00 by sending your cheque, payable to the Broadstone Chamber of Trade, to:

David J Morris
J L Morris (Insurance Brokers) Limited
Manor House
1 Macaulay Road
Broadstone
BH18 8AS

This is an artist's impression of the postmark.

Your name:

Your postal address:

Post code:

Telephone number:

e-mail address:

This confidential information will be destroyed once the cover has been sent to you.